Benefits

Scalable, "as needed", Controller services

Timely and accurate financial statement preparation

Knowledgeable, experienced professionals overseeing and/or performing accounting functions

Financial statement analysis providing your business with accurate representation of your company's financial situation

"We view Analytix not only as a partner but as an extension of our employee team. If we had to bring our financial operations in-house and hire a full-time bookkeeper and full-time Controller, it would cost us three times what we are paying now. And I doubt we would receive the same quality service and added value."
